

Aylish Chantler

a.k.a. Shlish, Lisheroo

Know Thyself

What is your major(s)? Philosophy

What year are you in? My last (see what I did there?)

Have you attended any other universities and if so which ones?

Yep. University of Toronto and Ryerson University.

The End Justifies the Means

What are your future plans, hopes, ambitions, dreams? I hope to do something nice. Plans – going to Oklahoma to do more philosophy, and to see where it takes me. Hope to be a southern belle and spend lots of time on park benches. Not many ambitions, but my dream is to be in Cats.

Why did you choose to major in philosophy? I think philosophy is nice. I choose it mainly because I think the questions being asked are interesting, meaningful, and make me curious :)

Presuppositions

Who is your favorite philosopher? It's always changing. They are all nice. Right now... Wittgenstein, Derrida, van Inwagen.

What is your favorite philosophical position? I do my best work standing. I guess this joke has been made. Right now I like modal skepticism and existentialism.

What is your favorite philosophical quote?

“Don't believe everything you think”

“Naturalism is the belief that there are no spooks” - Dr. Davis

“Philosophy is a jealous mistress” - Kirk Lougheed

Ode to a Sophist

What is your favorite thing about the philosophy faculty/department? The faculty is nice. But really – always willing to chat, super supportive, good jokes. The philosophy department by far the greatest department... I like the friendliness and sense of community. It's nice.

Blunt Nose

What are some random facts, comments, quirks, hobbies etc. about yourself?

- I can put my foot in my armpit while doing the splits.
- I broke my arm doing a backflip for a C.S. Lewis project – try to figure that one out.
- My mnemonic devices are often short song/dance combinations. This is how I memorised the ontology of the tractatus.
- I like board games, guitar, comedians, and books about economics.